

We at the City of Los Angeles invite your students to be part of The City of Los Angeles Future Leaders' Summit hosted by Randi Levin, Chief Technology Officer of the City of Los Angeles. The City has partnered with Los Angeles Unified School District's Educational Technology to bring you this unique opportunity. The mission of the Future Leaders' Summit is to promote workforce development. The summit is a forum for high school students to learn about technology, careers, and higher education.

Students will enjoy presentations, technology vehicles, and interactive exhibits from the Microsoft, FBI, UCLA, FIRST Robotics, USC, Activision, California State University Los Angeles, and Los Angeles Southwest College.

The program runs from 9:00AM – 11:30AM on November 12th, 2008 at the Los Angeles Convention Center in rooms 406 A & B and 408 A & B. Students will receive prizes.

Sign up deadline is November 7th and is limited to 320 students. Up to 40 students per school may attend. Registration is first-come, first-served. Schools will be responsible for providing transportation and lunch for the students.

To sign up, please contact Olivia at (213) 978-3006 or olivia.alvarez@lacity.org with the name of your school, the number of students you will be bringing, and their teacher's contact details.

Microsoft Innovation Day

New look. New products. New opportunities.

ACTIVISION

Don't miss this opportunity! Space is limited so get your students signed up now.